

Cabarrus Quilters' Guild Newsletter

March 2014

From the President's Desk:

The snow has melted and we are moving along with an exciting and informative new year.

Thank you to everyone who braved the weather to attend the February guild meeting and workshop. The decision to go ahead as planned turned out to be the right one. Although I hope winter is winding down and spring is on the way, this may be the correct time to remind you again that if school is closed, we will not meet.

Thank you to all who responded to the questionnaire that was distributed in December. Activities for this year were based upon those responses, At the February meeting Candy McManaway introduced the plans for what will be happening this year. Those of you who have signed up for the Block of the Month can look forward to making a beautiful quilt that will be finished in time for the quilt show. The mystery quilt was introduced and I heard people discussing the fabrics and colors they plan to use. The results should be awesome. I am not sure what message Candy and Debbie Robb were giving us about the challenge quilt except it should be fun! I hope you are like me and can't wait until the March meeting to see what they have planned. I think that some of my best work has been a result of challenges. Hopefully that will be true of a lot of us as Candy and Debbie inspire us to be creative.

Now that we have this year's raffle quilt completed and tickets are being sold, we need to get started on the 2015 raffle quilt. Having a raffle quilt is an important part of what our guild does to support CVAN as well as to help finance other programs and activities. I hope you will consider getting together with a few of your friends right away to develop a plan for a raffle quilt that you would be willing to make. Once you have made your decisions, email or give to me in writing what pattern and fabrics you are suggesting so I can present it to the Guild Board. The Board will announce the group that is selected to make the quilt top. Remember that it will be professionally quilted so that would not become one of your responsibilities.

I look forward to seeing all of you at our March meeting.

Carolyn Sweet, President

February Meeting - Minutes

Minutes of General Membership Meeting
February 10, 2014

The meeting began at 6:45 p.m. The social period was open from 6:15 to 6:45 during which time refreshments were served, visitors were greeted, sign ups (workshops, greeters, refreshments) occurred and members paid dues.

President Carolyn Sweet opened the meeting by welcoming visitors and seven new members. Thanks were given to those providing refreshments: JoAnna Cupp, Mildred Lamb; Phyllis Grass, Carol Yandle, Laverne Kidd. Greeters were Debbie Morse and Juanita Williams. Connie Richardson introduced Becky Bahn of Hospice who gave a brief presentation. They are currently accepting lap size quilts (36-38 x 46-48) or prayer shawls for their patients in hospice.

Pat Arndt introduced Dottie Moore who gave a presentation on her creative process and a trunk show. After the program, Pat spoke about upcoming programs in March and April and that we could still use some more sign ups.

Renee Hoagland announced that tickets for the 2014 raffle quilt are now available to sell. The raffle quilt will be available to display/travel within the next 30 days or so.

To celebrate Valentine's Day, Andersen's Sew and So graciously provided 3 door prizes won by Lisa Edwards, Robbi Banks, and Terry Patterson.

Ten members presented show and tell: displaying bears, quilts, wall hangings and tops they had completed.

Candy McManaway discussed activities. She showed some of the Block of the Month patterns that will be done by those participating. There is both a beginner and intermediate series. There is also a mystery quilt that will start in March. People can still sign up at the meeting, or can contact Nancy Miller directly. Candy and Debbie Robb also wore paper hats and paper chain necklaces as a hint when discussing the upcoming guild challenge. At this time, the challenge is still a surprise and to participate, you will need to bring $1 to the March meeting when details will be revealed. There will be minimum and maximum size restrictions. The challenge is to be completed for the August meeting.

Carol Harris displayed the Quilt of Valor made at Sew Saturdays and said that this Saturday's Sew Saturday program will be Victory Junction Bears.

The door prize was drawn. Our next meeting is March 10th. The meeting was adjourned at 8:32 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Nancy Miller
Secretary

Sew Get To Know Someone This Month!

Candy McManaway,
Guild Activities Chair

I grew up in a small town in Michigan. After receiving a degree in elementary education and very weary of Michigan's cold snowy winters, I moved to Florida. There I met my husband, Terry, moved to Kentucky and became a stay at home mom with our two girls. Fast forwarding to 1996, my father passed away and I received all his ties; and yes, that was the beginning of my quilting journey. I purchased my first quilt book "Daddy's Ties "and made my first quilt. Even though the sides were a bit wonky, I loved it then and to this day it is very dear to my heart. I took a beginning quilting class and joined this guild in March 2000. Through this guild I have met my BFF's (best friends forever), I have been inspired and challenged. I think I was born to be a quilter!

Debbie Robb, Guild Library Chair

I grew up in Toledo, Ohio; married the love of my life, Tom and moved to North Carolina in 1995. As a nurse and busy mom of 4, I started quilting, spinning and weaving as a way to ease stress and have a connection to history and textiles. History, in ALL forms is my passion! From old houses, to antiques, to "forgotten crafts", its all about history. I started out loving old Amish quilts, and after 30 some years, I still see those quilts as works of art. Although I do mostly traditional quilting, I respect both art and modern quilting too. It's all about expressing your passion, whatever it may be!

Sew What's Cooking?

Panera Bread Broccoli Cheese Soup – (copycat)

INGREDIENTS:

1/2 chopped Onion
1/4 cup melted Butter
1/4 cup Flour
2 cup Half and Half
2 cup Chicken Stock
2 large bunches Broccoli
2 Carrots
1/4 tsp Nutmeg
8 oz shredded Sharp Cheddar Cheese
Salt and Pepper to taste

DIRECTIONS:

Cut carrots into small strips. Break apart broccoli florets into small pieces.

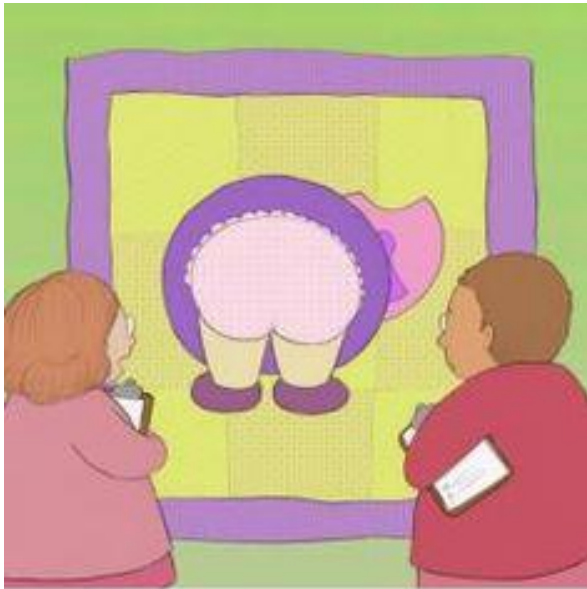

Sauté Onion in 1 tbsp. of melted butter until transparent. Make a roux using remainder of melted butter and flour. Cook about 5 minutes over medium heat.

Add in half and half stirring constantly. Add in chicken stock and simmer for 20 minutes. Add vegetables and cook for 25 minutes over low heat.

If you want a smooth soup, at this point puree in a blender and return to heat or use immersion blender.

Add cheese and nutmeg. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Sew Helpful Hints & Tricks

One of our most important tools is our Olfa cutting mat. Here are some tips on how to take care of it.

OLFA Cutting Mats love moisture!

It is recommended that you soak your mat from time to time. Your self-healing mat loves moisture. To soak it, put your mat in a bathtub or large container (would have to be large so it can lay flat) and soak it for 15-20 minutes in a solution of 1/4 cup white vinegar to every gallon of cool water. Let me repeat, cool water. Do this every so often to help extend its useful life. Then use a squirt of mild dishwashing soap (Ivory) and clean the mat with a mushroom brush (soft is the key word here). The purpose of this gentle scouring is to remove the fibers that get trapped in the cuts marks preventing the cuts from "healing". Keep 'em clean, keep 'em moist, keep 'em flat and NO heat. Your cutting mat is not a coffee cup coaster!

Phew!! My mat smells. How do I get rid of the odor?

Olfa recommends that you wipe the mat with a solution of equal parts of water and white vinegar. Let the mat sit for a few minutes. Rinse the mat and dry with a towel. Repeat as needed.

I've used my mat for other fabrics, and now it's got "fuzz" on it.

Fleece fibers in particular are attracted to your self-healing mat. Clean your mat with a soft bristle brush (like a tooth or mushroom brush) and a solution of room temperature (not warm, not hot, not cold) water and a couple drops of a mild detergent. Work into a lather to gently clean the mat. Remember to rinse with, again, cool room temperature water and wipe dry with a clean towel.

My rotary cutting mat is warped? Can it be saved?

Olfa, on their website, says there is no proven way to fix a warped cutting mat. However, many people swear they can fix a warped mat by:

- Laying it in the hot sun on the sidewalk
- Soaking in hot water and then laying it flat
- Storing between the mattress and box spring to flatten over time

Another way works 85% of the time but is not guaranteed or recommended by Olfa:

Step 1

Get a piece of heavy plywood 3/8" to 1/2" thick. Make sure it is not warped.

Step 2

Lay the plywood on concrete, and ONLY concrete, in a totally all day sunny area. The concrete is important!

Step 3

Put the damaged mat on the plywood.

Step 4

Using heavy plate glass (NOT WINDOW GLASS) which you may find on a table top, a dresser top, or shelf glass. Any combo, and cover the mat so that mat is completely covered. Not just the affected area...THE WHOLE MAT. The glass can extend over the edges of the mat.

Step 5

Leave this set up in the totally sunny area all day. No moving, no peeking, just leave it alone.

Step 6

Early the next day, after the mat has cooled overnight, your mat should be straight.

Again, remember, this method works about 85% of the time to straighten a warped Olfa cutting mat. It is not guaranteed.

Warp Prevention:

Now, the best way to fix a warped mat is to not let it happen in the first place:

- Always lay the mat flat and never on its edge
- Don't iron on it
- No hot food or drink on it
- Be careful not to place it close to a heat vent
- Store it flat under the bed or couch or on a cutting table.
